NCUK Prize Awards: Terms and Conditions

Eligibility for Awards and Minimum Requirements

- Only students who have been placed at an NCUK university will be eligible for an award
- IEN students are not eligible for the NCUK Prize Awards. Students of IEN should visit <http://www.ienuk.com> or contact an IEN representative for details of awards.
- SBC 4+0 students are not eligible for the Prize Awards.

Minimum requirements for Centre and Regional Prizes:

- IFY – Students must achieve more than 360 points in their subject modules to be eligible for an award
- IYOne – Students must average 70% or more and pass all modules to be eligible for an award
- PMP – Students must achieve a mark of 70% or more in the Research Methods module and an EAP grade B or better

Minimum requirements for Special Recognition Prizes:

- IFY – Students must achieve more than 300 points in their subject modules to be eligible for an award

Calculation of Student Grades for Awards

IFY

In order to ensure that EAP/EAPPU/RCS performance is included in the calculation of the award, the usual module points will be associated to the EAP/EAPPU/RCS module grade as well as the subject modules. Therefore an EAP/EAPPU/RCS 'A' grade is awarded 120 points in the same way that an 'A' grade in a subject module would be awarded 120 points. The students' total points will then be calculated by adding the number of points awarded for EAP/EAPPU/RCS to the number of points awarded for subject modules. As some students do not complete EAP/EAPPU/RCS, an average of these points is then taken. The students will then be ranked in the following way:

1. Average NCUK points
2. If students are then equal, they will be ranked by average mark on subject modules
3. If students are then equal, they will be ranked on EAP/EAPPU/RCS overall mark

IYOne

As the majority of IYOne students do not study EAP, this will not be included in the calculation to find the best performing student. Students will be ranked in the following way:

1. Number of credits
2. Average module mark

PMP

As all PMP students study EAP, an average of students' EAP and Research Methods marks will be calculated. Students will then be ranked based on this average.
