Teaching and research excellence.

Ranked among the best 100 universities in the world, the University of Sheffield welcomes more than 29,000 students from over 150 countries. Founded in 1905, the University is a member of the UK's prestigious Russell Group of research-led universities, with 99% of research rated as internationally recognised, excellent or world-leading (REF 2014).

As a leading research institution, the University attracts the best minds in the world. Teaching staff at Sheffield are leading the way with innovative approaches to teaching and learning. Many of them are accredited Senior, Principal and National Teaching Fellows, which means they're recognised at a national level for their high quality teaching.

At the University of Sheffield, there are a lot of new facilities. I like the fact that there are students from China on the course too but I can also meet and study with UK students.

Our city.

Home to more than half a million people, Sheffield has all the facilities you'd expect of a major UK city – restaurants and bars, cinemas, theatres and live music venues, museums and galleries, and independent and brand-name shops.

Sheffield is centrally located in the UK so it's easy to travel to other cities and places of interest. You can reach Manchester by train in 50 minutes and London in two hours. The city is a popular study destination and has a reputation for being friendly, welcoming and safe.

More than a third of the city is in an area of outstanding natural beauty called the Peak District National Park which is a centre for hiking, climbing and mountain biking. There are more than 250 parks, gardens and areas of woodland throughout the city.

“There is a really inclusive environment in Sheffield. Everyone is just so friendly. You get to meet people from so many countries that your eyes are opened to understanding life from the perspective of others.”

Standing out from the crowd.

We do everything we can to support you to graduate with a range of personal and professional experiences alongside your degree. We can support you with work experience, from short-term placements to a full year in industry. We have a worldwide network of exchange partners so you could spend part of your degree in Europe or countries including Australia, Canada and the USA.

Many of our courses are accredited by leading professional bodies and associations which can give you a distinct advantage on your first or next steps in your career. This can be an important assurance for employers to show that your degree is current, relevant and highly regarded in your chosen industry or sector.

Organisations such as McLaren, Boeing, the Wellcome Trust and Rolls-Royce invest millions of pounds into the University because our staff are world-leading researchers in their fields. Our strong links with these companies and organisations ensure that what you are learning meets the future needs of the industry.

Kyubin Do completed the NCUK International Foundation Year at IEN Institute in South Korea and came to Sheffield to study BSc (Hons) Information Technology Management for Business. He successfully applied for a 12 month placement as a project assistant at Samsung SDS Europe in London.

“ My 12 month placement with Samsung is helping me to build connections ”

“Through my placement I'm able to meet professionals working in the industry and I'm getting opportunities to build useful connections. I'm able to use my course knowledge to collaborate with both European and Korean colleagues which makes me feel prepared for any job regardless of where I am in the world.

What I learned on my course helped me to settle into the main part of the job at Samsung which is software development and delivery process management. My placement is also assisting my degree as I'm gathering so many sources and information to support my final year project.”

Advice and guidance

Our staff regularly travel to NCUK centres around the world and take part in online fairs. Talk to your NCUK advisors about whether we are coming to your centre soon. We can also arrange for you to talk to our students including our NCUK ambassadors.

If you would like to find out more about the University of Sheffield directly then we would love to hear from you.
