

NCUK Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategy 2025–2029

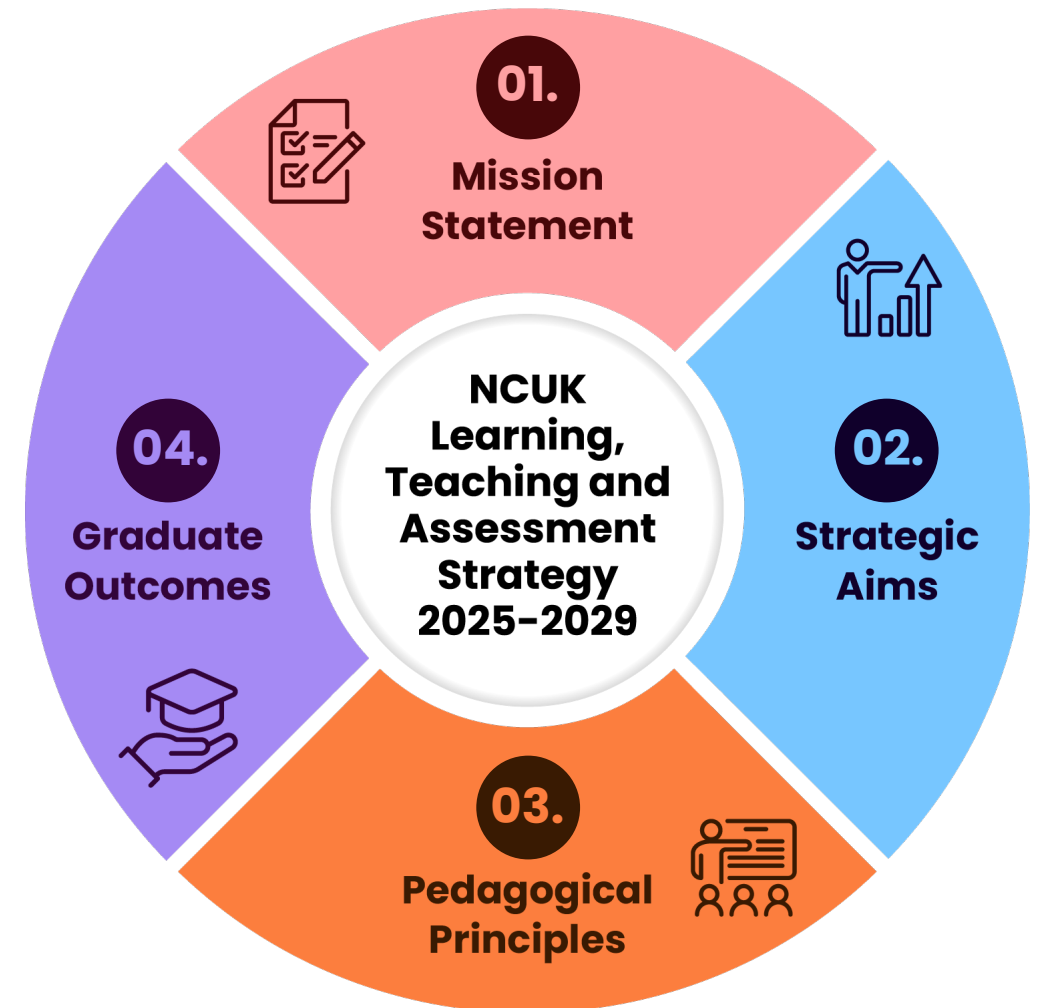

NCUK
UNIVERSITY PATHWAYS

Introduction

In the ever-changing landscape of international education, driven by market demands, technological advancements, political and economic factors, it is increasingly important to adopt a systematic approach to learning and teaching that is informed by robust assessment practices. Our Learning, Teaching and Assessment (LTA) Strategy is underpinned by NCUK values and aligned with overarching organisational strategy.

This LTA Strategy articulates NCUK's academic mission and identifies six strategic aims which provide its academic teams with direction and focus for the next five years. It is a commitment to continue enhancing the quality of programmes, to foster innovative pedagogical practices, and ensure inclusive and challenging educational experiences that directly impact student outcomes.

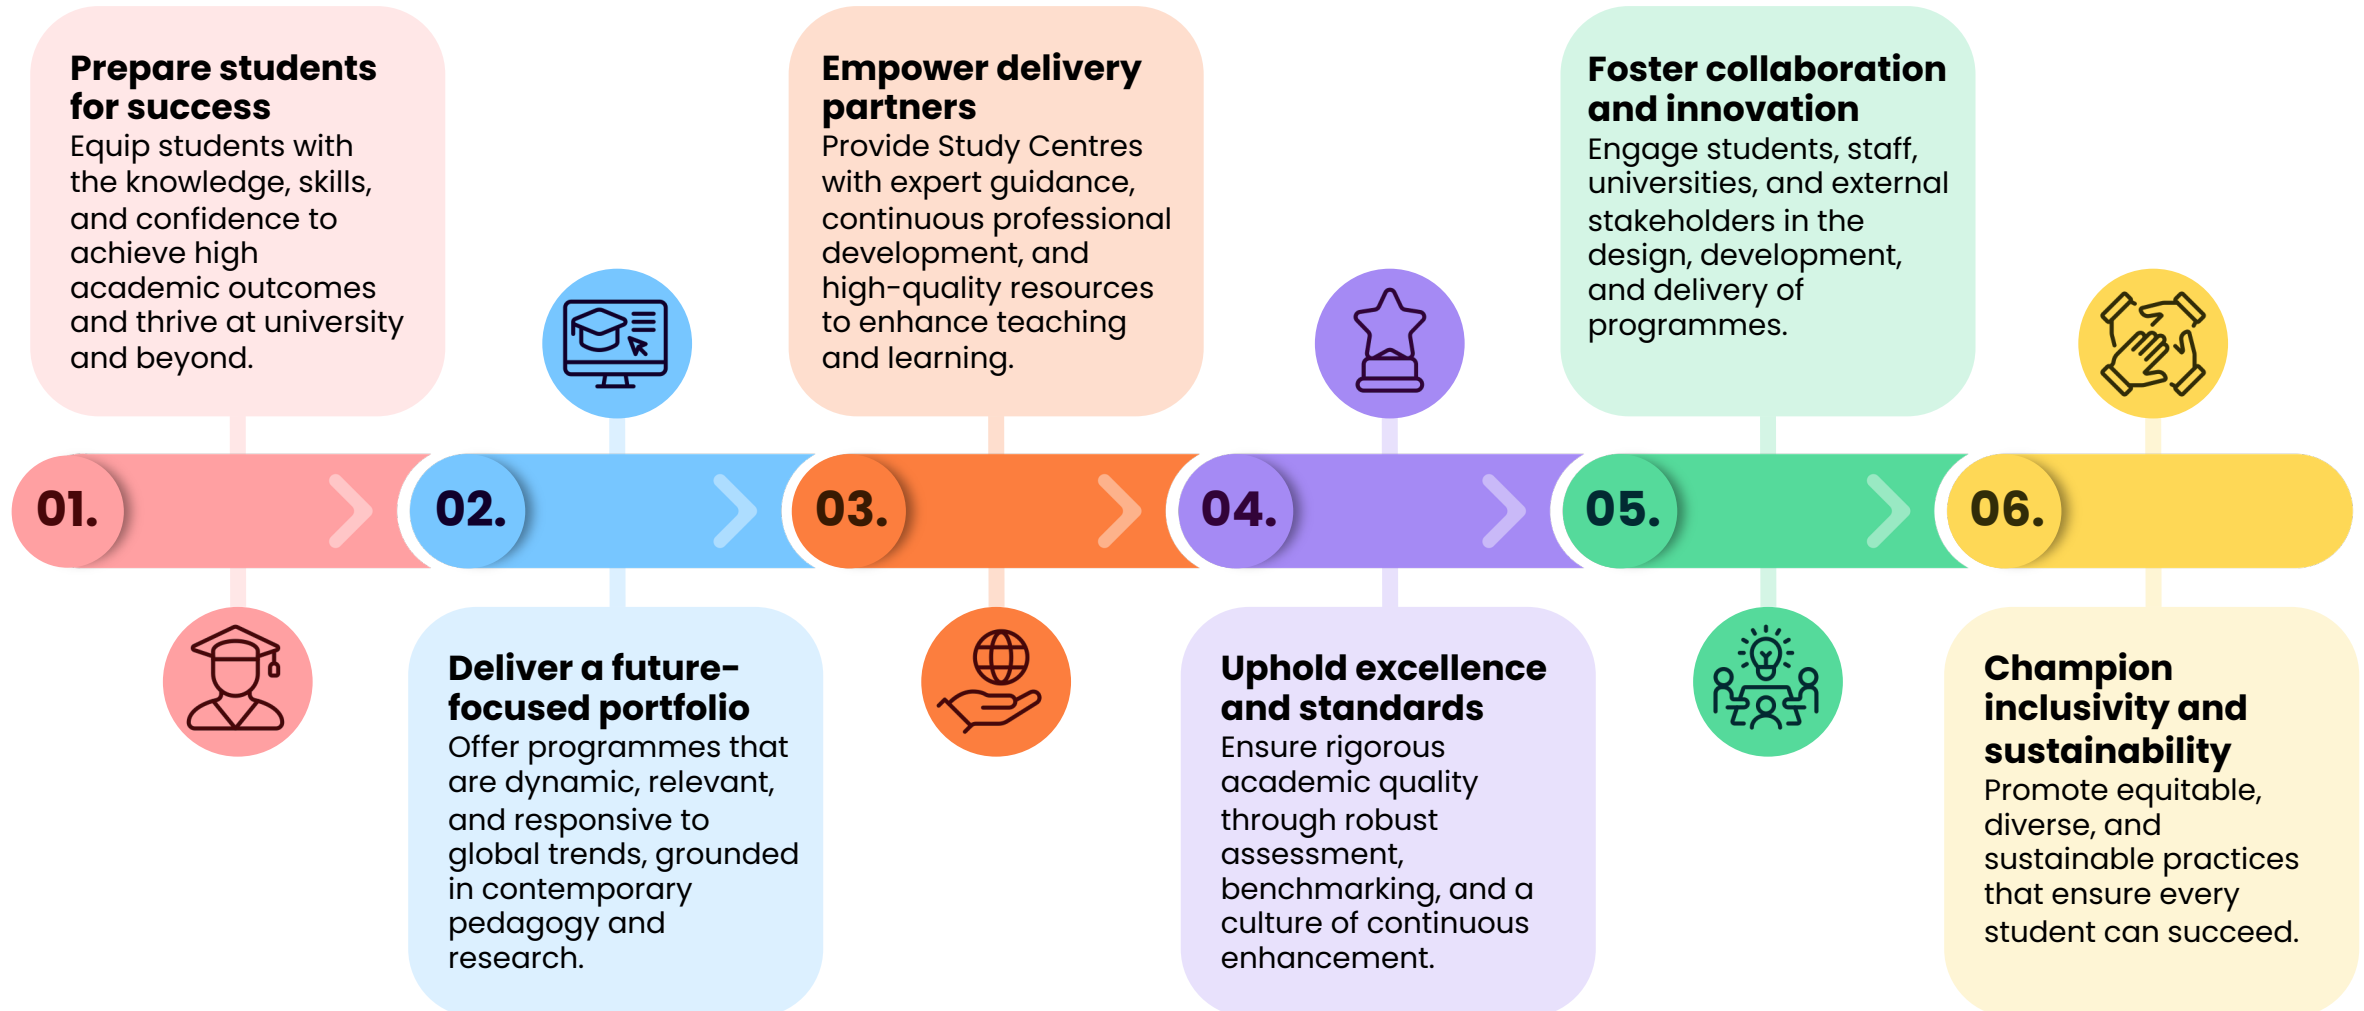

Learning, teaching and assessment mission statement

Learning, teaching and assessment will be inextricably linked in NCUK's approach to curriculum design and development, and its programmes delivered in partnership with education providers around the world. NCUK will equip its delivery partners with the tools and resources they need to ensure high quality innovative, inclusive, and impactful academic experiences for students, and with assessments that support student learning. NCUK will support its delivery partners to enhance their teaching and to develop as education professionals, so that students are fully prepared for success with NCUK's university partners and in their future careers.
